HOMES FOR HEROES NAMES CHRISTOPHER BOWLES PRESIDENT

MINNEAPOLIS, MINNESOTA (MAY 8, 2020) -- Homes for Heroes, Inc., the largest nationwide network of real estate and mortgage professionals who have helped over 35,000 American heroes buy, sell or refinance a home and save over $60 million, recently announced the promotion of Christopher Bowles to President. Bowles will have the primary responsibility of providing leadership to the company's workforce, setting strategic direction, and continue to lay the groundwork for the organization's mission of thanking every hero in the nation.

"Over the years, Christopher has proven to be a natural leader. He has been instrumental in identifying and solving our growth challenges and led the company through changes, both large and complex," said Ruth Johnson, Chief Executive Officer of Homes for Heroes. "He is focused on a successful forward direction for the company and his vision for the future is clear. We have complete trust that Christopher will always do the right thing for the company, our employees, our affiliates and the heroes we serve."

Bowles joined Homes for Heroes in 2012 in a sales role and quickly rose to Sales Manager. In 2014, he was promoted to General Manager, and in 2019 was promoted to Vice President of Operations.

Prior to Homes for Heroes, Bowles held Human Resource Generalist roles at Schwan's Consumer Brands and Fish & Richardson P.C. Bowles is also one of our country's heroes, having served as a Non-Commissioned Officer in Charge, Battalion Legal Chief, and Personnel Administrator for four years with the United States Marine Corps.

Bowles is an honors graduate of the University of Minnesota - Carlson School of Management's Executive MBA program.
